Purpose of This Manual

The Endorsement Application Manual is a reference tool to assist practitioners in the infant-family early childhood mental health field understand the California Center for Infant-Family and Early Childhood Mental Health endorsement process and the required knowledge and experience needed to meet the criteria for endorsement by the California Center as a professional trained and experienced to provide early childhood mental health services to infants and young children and their families .

The manual identifies the types of endorsement one can pursue and the steps involved in applying for endorsement. A copy of the application form is provided as a reference.

Details of the knowledge and experience required for each endorsement can be found in the California Compendium of Training Guidelines, Personnel Competencies, and Professional Endorsement Criteria for Infant-Family and Early Childhood Mental Health at <http://cacenter-ecmh.org/professional-development/california-compendium-of-training-guidelines-personnel-competencies-and-professional-endorsement-criteria-for-infant-family-and-early-childhood-mental-health/>.

Individuals interested in endorsement are advised to read the California Compendium of Training Guidelines, Personnel Competencies, and Professional Endorsement Criteria for Infant-Family and Early Childhood Mental Health (2016) in its entirety to gain a comprehensive overview of the infant-family and early childhood mental health field and the skills, knowledge, and experience necessary to work successfully in the field.

Professional Endorsement: Defining a Standard of Excellence

All professionals working with young children and their families need to be grounded in the core knowledge and training necessary to provide family-centered, diversity-informed, and developmentally appropriate services across the continuum of infant-family and early childhood mental health. Mentors and trainers may use the Endorsement Application Manual to support service providers during their endorsement application process. Mentors and trainers should refer to the California Compendium of Training Guidelines, Personnel Competencies, and Professional Endorsement Criteria for Infant-Family and Early Childhood Mental Health (Compendium) when providing training and reflective practice facilitation mentoring. Endorsement applicants should also refer to the Compendium to determine their eligibility to meet the endorsement category requirements.

A provider can seek the following endorsements, depending upon her or his current training, experience, and professional goals:

Transdisciplinary Infant-Family and Early Childhood Mental Health Practitioners

(Transdisciplinary IFECMH Practitioners) include individuals with a bachelor's degree or higher who provide direct services in their specialty to pregnant women, infants, toddlers, preschoolers, and their families — infusing infant-family and early childhood mental health principles and practices within their scope of practice and professional ethics. Age categories for endorsement include: (0-3) IF-TMHP, (3-5) EC-TMHP, (0-5) IFEC-TMHP.

Advanced Transdisciplinary Infant-Family and Early Childhood Mental Health Practitioners are individuals with a master's degree or higher in a relevant field who have met the criteria for the Transdisciplinary IFECMH Practitioner. Advanced Transdisciplinary IFECMH Practitioners have a minimum of eight years' experience. Age categories for endorsement include: (0-3) IF-ATMHP, (3-5) EC-ATMHP, (0-5) IFEC-ATMHP.

Infant-Family and Early Childhood Mental Health Specialists (IFECMH Specialists) include providers with a master's degree or higher who are from relevant professional practice discipline. They provide prenatal, infant-family, and/or early childhood mental health services within their scope of practice and professional ethics. Individuals also have a professional license or credential from a state regulatory agency. Age categories include: (0-3) IF-MHS, (3-5) EC-MHS, (0-5) IFEC-MHS.

Reflective Practice Facilitators I and II (RPF I and II) are individuals who support the reflective practice of providers working with infants, toddlers, young children, and their families and who have completed an additional set of trainings and competencies focusing on the reflective practice facilitation process as outlined in the Compendium. Reflective Practice Facilitator I must first be endorsed as a TMHP or ATMHP. Reflective Practice Facilitator II must currently be endorsed as a MHS. An RPF I can provide reflective practice facilitation for Transdisciplinary IFECMH Practitioners or Advanced IFECMH Practitioners. An RPF II can provide reflective practice facilitation for either Transdisciplinary IFECMH (and Advanced Practitioners) or Mental Health Specialists, depending on their cross-discipline experience.

Reflective Practice Mentors (RP Mentors) have attained endorsement as a Reflective Practice Facilitator I or II and have also met the requirements to be able to train, support, and facilitate the learning of others undertaking the work of reflective practice facilitation. Activities of a mentor include but are not limited to program development, evaluation, supervision, training, staff development, policy development, research, and work within and across systems of care serving young children and families. Endorsement for the Reflective Practice Mentor requires additional criteria focused specifically on developing reflective facilitation skills.

The Application Process

The process to apply for endorsement has three stages:

- Prepare
- Gather supporting documents
- Complete and submit the online application

PREPARE

As an applicant, familiarize yourself with the California Compendium of Training Guidelines, Personnel Competencies, and Professional Endorsement Criteria for Infant-Family and Early Childhood Mental Health, including the endorsement categories and resource example materials, in order to select your appropriate category of endorsement.

After you have selected the appropriate endorsement including the age group with which you are qualified to work, review the endorsement criteria for knowledge areas (Domain 1) and direct service experience supported by reflective practice facilitation (Domain 2). Determine if you meet the criteria by reviewing your own training documents, experience and receipt of reflective practice facilitation.

GATHER SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS

Gather materials required for submission including those that document your learning experience in the eight knowledge areas and verify your hours of direct services to children and families supported by reflective practice facilitation. Letters of recommendation and personal statements should include the endorsement category for which you are applying and the age group with which you want to work. Focus submission materials exclusively on your experience in infant and early childhood mental health and refer to samples on the website and application.

For Endorsement as a Transdisciplinary IFECMH Practitioner (or Advanced) or IFECMH Specialist

All applicants for the Transdisciplinary IFECMH Practitioner, Advanced Transdisciplinary IFECMH Practitioner, and IFECMH Specialist endorsements are required to submit:

1. Materials that document your learning experience in the knowledge areas such as:
 - Transcripts of relevant college coursework.
 - Certificates of attendance for community workshops, training conferences, or reflective facilitation practice groups.
 - Publications or training materials you have developed if counting knowledge area hours you have provided as a presenter or trainer.
 - An IFECMH training program certificate that lists the hours in each knowledge area and is signed by the program director.
2. A brief narrative of learning for Domains 1 and 2:
 - Provide the hours of training you received specific to the population for which you are seeking endorsement (birth to age 5, birth to age 3, or age 3 to 5) from classes, workshops, conferences, and specialized training courses according to the eight knowledge domains.

- If you completed an IFECMH training program, you must still submit the learning narrative for both Domains 1 and 2. You may reference the certificate for knowledge areas A through H, but the certificate must list the training hours in each knowledge area.
 - Include any additional training hours beyond the criteria requirements.
 - Include in Domain 2 the agency, years, and number of direct service hours supported by reflective practice facilitation and the name of the supervisor/reflective practice facilitator.
 - Verify the hours that are required to meet the endorsement category criteria of reflective practice facilitation/supervision.
3. A brief personal statement:
 - In no more than 500 words, describe your background and any other important information about you related to the area of infant-family and/or early childhood mental health and your interest in seeking endorsement.
 4. A letter of recommendation from someone* who has provided reflective facilitation to you around your direct service/clinical work with children birth to age 5 and their families/caregivers as documented on your resume that includes:
 - A statement about your competence in working with children birth to age 5 and their families.
 - A statement about their own experience with children birth to age 5 and their training in reflective facilitation/supervision. Specify the reflective facilitator's role and confirm that the reflective facilitation provided was in general aligned with the Compendium related to reflective practice facilitation as outlined on www.cacenter-ecmh.org.
 - The endorsement category and age group for which they are recommending you.
 5. A current resume.

*Please note that all hours counted for reflective practice facilitation after 2017 must be through an endorsed reflective practice facilitator. All previous hours can still be counted.

For Endorsement as a Reflective Practice Facilitator

Reflective Practice Facilitators I and II applicants are required to submit:

1. A short personal statement of how you have met the competencies, including training, readings, DVD viewing, and hours mentored.
2. At least one letter of recommendation from a person who provided you with reflective practice facilitation support/mentorship. (The RPF letter of recommendation should be from a different person than the one who wrote the letter of recommendation for the Mental Health Specialist or Transdisciplinary IFECMH Practitioner endorsement.)
3. The names and contact information of three people who have received reflective practice facilitation from you. The California Center will contact these references via email to verify the length of time and quality of the reflective practice facilitation.

For Endorsement as a Reflective Practice Mentor

Applicants for Reflective Practice Mentor must previously have met criteria for RPF I or II endorsement and submit the following documentation:

1. A short personal statement regarding your qualifications as a mentor.

2. The names and contact information of three Reflective Practice Facilitators you mentored who will be contacted via email to verify the length of time and quality of the reflective practice mentoring.
3. At least one letter of recommendation from a professional who provided mentorship to the applicant as they became a mentor.
4. A 20-minute video of your reflective practice facilitation mentoring session and a reflective narrative.

Please save all documents into .doc or .pdf format prior to uploading.

Mental Health Training program certificates may not be substituted for the learning narrative document but can be referenced and submitted as a support document.

You may not count the same training hours in more than one training knowledge area. Indicate the number of hours in the course work that applied to the 0–5 age group.

5. Materials that document training in knowledge areas. These will vary according to where you have received your training. For example, they might include a certificate from a specialized infant mental health training program, certificates of attendance from conferences and community training courses, or transcripts that show coursework that covers knowledge domains.

Reflective Practice Facilitator I or II need the following in addition to the TMHP or MHS items listed above. You cannot apply for Reflective Practice without a TMHP or MHS endorsement.

1. The letter of recommendation signed and on official letterhead stating the endorsement category (Reflective Practice Facilitator). This needs to be a different person from the one for MHS/TMHP and usually the person who provided training and mentorship to become a RPF.

2. Reflective practice facilitators will need the names and email contact information for three people to whom you provided reflective practice facilitation. California Center staff will send a request for verification via email.

You cannot apply for RP Mentor without TMHP/MHS and RPF endorsement.

Reflective Practice Mentor requires completion of all of the RPF criteria along with additional RP Mentor criteria as listed in the Compendium (2016).

1. Letter from your mentor documenting the reflective practice facilitation you received that is related to the work you have done to help others become reflective practice facilitators. Your mentor must state that she/he is recommending you as a mentor to trainees providing RPF to others. If you are applying for Mentor endorsement without previously holding the RPF endorsement, you must supply a letter in each application specifying what they are recommending you for. Do not use the same letter for both as the endorsements are for different activities. View Sample.

2. Reflective Practice Mentor applicants will need the names and email contact information for three people that you mentored to become RP facilitators. California Center staff will send email requests for verification.

These are people to whom you provided mentorship to become RP Facilitators, not colleagues who were trained with you to become RPF.

3. A 20-minute video and written reflection of your own RPF session.
